Kay Salerno, President/Co-Founder, YoungSocial

Kay Salerno is an entrepreneur specializing in social and digital marketing, leadership, and culture building. Growing up in a family business and taking on leadership roles as young as 19, Kay quickly learned how to (and how NOT to) effectively lead others. Shortly after marrying her husband, Daniel, the couple moved to San Diego where Kay accepted a position as the General Manager for a popular locally owned restaurant. Working day in and day out bussing tables, creating schedules and leading meetings, she discovered something there that wasn't there before - a drive and passion to make a difference and the guts to make it happen. In the midst of this discovery, she did what any logical person would do and quit her steady job to start her own social marketing firm, YoungSocial which quickly grew into a 6 figure business. YoungSocial has worked with clients such as Rita's Italian Ice and The John Maxwell Team to build company and customer culture while driving sales and revenue in the digital realm. Now the owner of three businesses, Kay speaks on her experiences and coaches others on how they too can utilize cutting edge tools to improve their businesses. She firmly believes that through love, laughter, hard work and a sound strategy anyone can achieve success.
